

Civil Rights Bill Doubtful for This Year

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hopes for House passage this year of a civil rights bill dimmed today after the controversial legislation hit political and procedural snags.

Like President Kennedy's tax bill, it appears to have fallen far back in a race with the calendar.

Although the civil rights measure was approved by the House Judiciary Committee Oct. 29 after turmoil and compromise, a report explaining it and the committee members' views won't be ready until Nov. 18.

Such a report must be filed in the House before the bill can take the next step—to the House Rules Committee for a resolution setting terms of debate and sending it to the floor.

With Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., hostile to the bill, the process is certain to consume the maximum time possible.

It would appear that mid-December is the earliest the bill could be ready for the floor, leaving little time for the house to act before it shuts down for a Christmas recess.

Thus evidence mounted that neither of the President's top priority domestic measures, civil rights or tax reduction, will make the grade with Congress before next year's session.

"There just mechanically cannot be a tax bill this year," Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen declared today.

And, he said, the schedule is also working against civil rights legislation.

"As I put it together, it would be mid-December before that (civil rights) could get to us and our Christmas recess is going to begin on the 20th of December," Dirksen said in an interview with en. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, prepared of Midwest radio and television stations.

Dirksen emphasized that Congress still has a lot of work to do on appropriations.

Practically all hopes for the tax measure this year were killed Friday by the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee set Dec. 13 as the final day of its hearings on the bill.

That would leave only one week before the holiday recess—hardly enough days to complete Senate passage and compromise any differences with the House, which has already passed the bill.

Although the final measure was largely the result of negotiations between the administration and House Republican leaders, the report—prepared by the committee staff—leaned heavily on Kennedy's civil rights message as the source of the legislation.

Protests from Republicans who saw the draft were loud and long and it eventually had to be rewritten to place greater emphasis on the GOP contribution.

Kansan Killed in McGee Wreck

MC GEE, Ark. (AP)—Maurice F. Houtman, 22, of Kansas City, Kan., was killed instantly early today when his small foreign car and a transport truck collided head-on 1.5 miles north of McGee on U.S. Highway 65.

The driver of the truck, Donald Luther Gallap, 27, of Pine Bluff, was not seriously hurt.

State Trooper Gene Mabry said Houtman apparently fell asleep and his car crossed the center line. Mabry said Houtman left Pensacola, Fla., about 4 p.m. Thursday and apparently had been driving all night.

The accident occurred at 4:20 a.m.

Administrators Fired and Nurses Return

CAIRO, Ga. (AP)—Officials of Cairo's only hospital have accepted the resignation of the hospital administrator, W. H. Strickland, and reinstated nine registered nurses who quit in a dispute.

The action Wednesday night brought an end to the disagreement which had left the 31-bed hospital with one part-time nurse since last Friday.

Believe Viet Nam Can Be Free, Secure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the new government of South Viet Nam brings hope that the troubled nation can be "free and secure."

Rusk told a news conference, on the day following recognition of the new government by the United States and Britain, that this country has no special interest of its own in Viet Nam and never has had a selfish concern there.

The American interest from the outset, he said, has been to insure survival of the nation against the threat of Communist takeover.

For the first time in history, the secretary of state's meeting with reporters was opened to live broadcast. It was carried live by Mutual Broadcasting and ABC-Radio. The television networks taped it for later viewing.

The rule in the past has been that reporters could not quote the secretary directly until he had had a chance to review a transcript of his remarks and edit them if deemed advisable for policy reasons.

The news conference centered on the Viet Nam situation but ranged widely.

In response to a question, Rusk said he did not know what was behind suggestions that the United States seek a political settlement with North Viet Nam. From all he could learn, he said, the North Vietnamese were not prepared to accept any changes in the present political situation as it affected them.

The secretary said the chief problem that developed with the Diem regime in South Viet Nam was an alienation of the people. He said he felt the new regime would be able to resolve the differences so that the country could move against the Communists with unity.

Rain Splashes Eastern Half of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain splashed across parched areas in Eastern sections in the nation today, alleviating drought conditions and replenishing dwindling water supplies in many states.

A storm off the Delaware coast during the night set off rain storms over broad sections from Virginia northward. Rainfall amounts tapered off in some areas but some locally heavy downpours were reported in parts of New England. Nearly two inches of rain doused Rumford, Maine, in a six-hour period.

A rain storm that swept New York City from Tuesday night until Thursday midnight dumped 4.30 inches, more than any storm in the past eight years. Nearly three inches fell Thursday, the biggest amount for a single day in more than three years.

Central Pennsylvania, hit hard by drought conditions and forest fires, had the heaviest rainfall in more than a year and amounts in New England were the biggest this year.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton lifted a ban imposed Oct. 15 on smoking and campfires in woodlands.

New York State extended the big-game hunting season to make up for the eight-day delay in its opening because forest lands were closed as a fire precaution.

However, Weather Bureau officials in Eastern cities said more heavy rains are needed to bring rainfall amounts to normal levels.

In other parts of the nation, fog for the fourth straight day blanketed wide areas from the upper Great Lakes region southward to the central Gulf region. Visibility was cut to zero in some sections, halting and slowing air travel.

In the West, more rain fell through the Pacific Northwest with snow in higher elevations.

Wheat Deal Is in Hands of Private Traders

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has placed negotiations for a mammoth sale of wheat to the Communist bloc in the hands of private traders after setting guidelines on the sensitive shipping issue.

Shortly after agreement was announced Friday between the United States and Russia on the handling of transportation, the Commerce Department issued an export license for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat—about $70 million worth—to Hungary.

The deal, by the Giant Car-gill, Inc., grain firm of Minneapolis, may be the first trickle in a steady flow of U.S. surplus grain to the Soviet Union and her European satellites.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said the understanding between the United States and Russia on shipping covers 2.5 million tons of wheat which the Soviets want by May 31. The satellite countries are expected to take an additional 1.5 million tons.

The 4 million tons would be about 130 million bushels and would involve more than $250 million. Transportation costs may add another $50 million or more to the purchase price.

Some members of Congress have said the deal may open the door for further sales of wheat and other U.S. farm products to the Communist countries. The Soviet Union recently purchased 6.8 million tons of wheat from Canada and 1.8 million tons from Australia.

The government said 50 percent of the wheat must be carried in U.S. ships if they are available and ceilings were set on the rates U.S. ship operators can charge.

U.S. grain dealers will offer the Russians prices based on cost plus delivery, and then, if the Soviets accept, a trader can seek the best shipping deal available within the rules set by the government.

The ceilings are based on guidelines used for the shipment of commodities under the foreign aid program and are approximately the same as current rates charged by U.S. shippers.

Negotiations at the government level were stalled for more than three weeks over shipping rates.

President Kennedy had stipulated that the grain must move U.S. vessels if they were available, but the Soviets wanted to control the transportation end of the deal so they could take advantage of lower rates offered by foreign-operated vessels.

U.S. shipowners had first suggested a $25 a ton price, compared to the foreign-operated rates of $12.50 to $14, but this was scaled down to $21 and the last reported offer was $18.

The guidelines will peg the rate at $16 to $22.50 a ton, depending on the type of ship, the particular Russian port and other factors.

It was no small item the Russians were dickering for, since $5 a ton in transportation charges would add $20 million to the total price in a 4 million-ton transaction.

It seems likely that some wheat will start moving to Russia soon, although there could be another hitch in the price.

Corn was not covered by Kennedy's shipping restriction and about $7 million worth has been cleared for shipment to Hungary.

No single trader is supposed to get more than 25 percent of the Soviet bloc business, and it seems likely that the transaction will develop as a series of relatively small deals.

The breakthrough in negotiations apparently was reached Wednesday at a meeting between Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and the Soviet mission headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei A. Borisov.

Oldest Soldier to Re-Enlist

Sheik Thinks Kuwait Is Great

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Sheik Bader Mulla thinks Kuwait is great.

Lounging in his $130 a day bungalow at a Beverly Hills hotel, the sheik, 27, explained: "The wealth is beyond imagination, beyond belief. A square foot of Kuwait costs as much as on your Manhattan."

Bader was secretary of state of the little oil rich kingdom at the age of 18, but quit two years ago to handle his family's business affairs, including concessions for several big American firms.

He said he has six or eight cars, homes in Kuwait, Beirut and London, but only one wife. All this and no income tax.

"I wouldn't exchange it for any other place," said Bader.

$277 Million Invested in Europe Arms

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has $277.5 million invested in tanks, artillery, trucks and other equipment stockpiled in Western Europe for Army divisions airlifted from this country.

The cost of that two-division stockpile was learned today by The Associated Press.

The 2nd Armored Division, flown to West Germany nearly three weeks ago in Exercise Big Lift, has been using about $155 million of this gear in war games near the Iron Curtain.

After the maneuvers, the 2nd Armored will return roughly the 4,000 vehicles—tanks, armored personnel carriers, trucks, jeeps and other equipment—to Hodespwest on the Rhine River.

Then the outfit will be flown back to its home base at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Enough heavy gear for an armored division and an infantry division was stockpiled in Germany and France during the Berlin crisis two years ago.

The stated purpose is to permit a swift reinforcement from the United States during a time of tension preceding a possible armed clash with the Russians and their satellites.

Information on the stockpile indicated that the 4th Infantry Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash., is ticketed for emergency service in Europe if needed.

A rundown on the cost of the "pre-position" equipment for two divisions and 10 supporting units showed: 2nd Armored Division—initial cost of equipment $144,697,683 plus spares worth $10,319,485 for an over-all total of $155,017,168.

4th Infantry Division—equipment cost $91,602,955; spares $7,182,176 for a total of $98,785,131.

Supporting units—equipment $21.1 million, spares $1.69 million; total $22.79 million.

Also figures in is a basic load of ammunition worth about $900,000, bringing the grand total for the stockpile to $277,492,299.

The lesser equipment cost for an infantry division stems from the fewer vehicles it uses compared with an armored division.

Faubus to Teach Century Class

Governor Orval E. Faubus will teach the Century Bible Class of the First Methodist Church next Sunday, November 10, 1963. Governor Faubus accepted an invitation extended to him by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant and John L. Wilson, one of the regular teachers of the class. Sunday School will start promptly at 9:30 and the teacher will continue with the regular International Series being used by the Century Bible Class teachers.

Mr. Faubus, a Baptist, has been active in church and Sunday School work all of his life and is an accomplished Bible student as well as teacher.

Bethany Builds Parsonage

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writers

"Commit thy works unto the Lord and thy thoughts shall be established." Prov. 16:3.

An unusual project undertaken by the members of the Bethany Baptist Church in Spring Hill in August has recently been successfully completed. For the first time in the 100 year history of the church a full-time pastor is now serving the 161 resident members, but when it was decided to employ a minister on this basis the need for a parsonage became obvious.

The cost of the new home seemed prohibitive until 25 or 30 people in the Spring Hill community, not all members of the Bethany Church, volunteered their services for various phases of the construction. For the next two months carpenters, brick layers, an electrician, a plumber, and a concrete specialist worked at night and on Saturdays to complete the three bedroom, white frame home now occupied by the Rev. and Mrs. Stacy Tharshner and their two sons, aged 7 and 14.

Modern in every respect, the home has paneled walls, vinyl-covered floors, and a combination kitchen-dining-living room area in the latest style. The workers covered the house with a white roof, trimmed it with brown shutters, and even dug a well for the new occupants.

While the men were building, the women were certainly not idle. Sewing machines buzzed, and the happy result was lovely drapes throughout the home. Delf feminine hands did most of the indoor painting. And, of course, it was the female gender who had the final say-so about the over-all color scheme.

Beige was the basic color used in all the rooms. The trim varied with the location but apricot, chocolate brown, and white were the accent colors. The success of the decorating was measured by the comment of a visiting interior decorator who said, "The only thing I would have done differently was in the finish of the kitchen cabinets." Since no two decorators ever agree fully on all points, this was indeed a compliment.

The most remarkable aspect of the entire project was the complete lack of problems and disagreement among the voluntary workers. According to the Rev. Tharshner, the people captured a new vision and had a unity of purpose under the guidance of the Rev. H. D. Ward of Bodewau, local missionary of the Union Association of Missionary Baptist Churches.

After the Tharshner family moved into the parsonage on October 22, a housewarming was given for them October 23. A dedication is planned for the near future. Unsolicited donations generously made and the labor freely given have been the reasons that the new Baptist parsonage at Spring Hill was completed at half the originally estimated cost.

Thinks U.S. Aid to Come Eventually

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, predicted today that federal aid for education will come without federal control.

Mullins made the forecast in a speech to a meeting of the Department of Secondary School Principals in connection with the Arkansas Education Association convention in Little Rock.

Mullins made it plain that he favors federal aid and said the government has been assisting education without intervention.

He forecast that the university enrollment will reach 13,500 within the next 10 years and said more attention should be given to community cultural and social facilities for students.

"When you put a group of 7,500 to 8,000 students in a community of 20,000, more or less, you must give some attention to more than their classroom programs," he said.

Regional Airport Gets an Assist

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce got an offer of assistance from a private Pulaski County business group Thursday on building a regional airport.

Wayne A. Slone of Pine Bluff, president of the state chamber proposed the Central Arkansas airport recently.

Staunton Brown, executive director of the Committee of 100 for Pulaski County, made the offer of assistance in a letter to Slone, who replied that a committee will be named soon to determine the feasibility of the project.

Sone called for an airport to serve Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, Little Rock and North Little Rock and nearby cities.

Goldwater Backer Has No Fear

By WALTER MEARS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's top New Hampshire backer said today he thinks the conservative lawmaker will win that state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary despite the early campaign launched by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire said he looks for "a fine aggressive" Rockefeller campaign.

But the Goldwater lieutenant added: "We don't want an early campaign. We want a campaign that steadily intensifies until the end. And I'm just optimistic to think that we can carry New Hampshire."

Goldwater, who tops polls in New Hampshire and across the nation on the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, stuck to the no-comment policy he has followed since Rockefeller declared himself a candidate Thursday.

The New York governor made his announcement in Albany, N.Y., then flew to New Hampshire for two days of campaigning.

"I know I am the underdog in the polls," he said in Nashua, N.H., "but if one comes into politics because of his belief in principles, then whether you are ahead or behind in the polls doesn't matter."

In New York, former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Rockefeller is the logical man to head the 1964 GOP ticket.

Dewey—who made two unsuccessful bids for the White House—said Rockefeller's leadership "and remarkable achievements in New York make him the logical Republican candidate for president and I wish him every success."

Goldwater has not said whether he will seek the nomination. The Arizona senator has promised an announcement by Jan. 27.

And if he does become a candidate, Goldwater said in Concord, N.H., 10 days ago, he will enter the March 10 New Hampshire primary and campaign actively in the state.

A candidate's consent is not required to put his name on the ballot in New Hampshire.

Cotton, top name among Goldwater supporters in New Hampshire, said he always has believed Rockefeller would be "a very formidable candidate" in the primary. But he added "I feel that Sen. Goldwater will carry New Hampshire."

Cotton said a defeat in that primary could knock Rockefeller out of contention for the nomination. He said "it wouldn't be fatal" if Goldwater entered and lost.

Rockefeller himself said if he was defeated in New Hampshire "I'd be very sorry, but I'd keep right on campaigning in other primaries."

Khrushchev Could Hurt Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's enough to make President Kennedy uncomfortable. He wants re-election in 1964. His best campaign theme would be peace and prosperity.

And now Premier Khrushchev, who can grunt and growl like a mechanical bear, is performing again. Twice in less than a month's time the Soviets have blockaded American convoys in East Germany.

This could be merely a temporary unpleasantness, like sneezing in the soup. There's no way of knowing that. It could also be the signal of worse to come, with Khrushchev turning 1964 into a year of crises.

If that happens Kennedy will feel like the center-piece in a sandwich.

On one side Khrushchev testing American will and courage with his defiance; on the other, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., campaigning for the presidential nomination with slogans of stiff-arm-the-Russians.

Last fall he State Department, like a man who had just escaped from a furnace alive, developed a kind of euphoria when Khrushchev avoided a showdown on Cuba by pulling his missiles out.

It began talking of winds of change sweeping the world, the State Department's way of saying happy days are here again, or hoping they were.

The world did quiet down a bit gradually although any agreement on that sore and ancient subject — a nuclear test ban — seemed not only far off but impossible.

Yet, both sides began inching their way toward it. What followed seemed to indicate that Khrushchev finally had been induced to talk reasonably.

On March 8, 1963, the United States and Russia agreed to cultural exchanges in the scientific, technical, educational and artistic fields.

Things looked even more comfortable June 20 when the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington was opened to speed communications between the two nerve centers in an emergency.

And on July 25 the United States, Russia and Britain in Moscow initiated a limited nuclear test ban agreement.

It ran into a storm here. The agreement meant nothing unless the Senate approved it in the form of a treaty. And for quite a while there seemed some chance it wouldn't. It finally did on Sept. 24.

Khrushchev — instead of playing hard during that whole time between July 25 and Sept. 24 — played mouse. He didn't do or say anything to give Senate opponents an additional talking point that might have defeated the treaty.

This was a historic example, if anyone needed it, of how easily Khrushchev could turn his charm on and, as he soon showed, off.

The treaty wasn't wrapped up until Kennedy signed it, which he did Oct. 7.

On Oct. 10, the very day the test treaty went into effect, Khrushchev became his old self again. The Soviets blockaded an American convoy in East Germany, held it up a couple of days, let it again Nov. 4 and again let it through.

These two escapades created brand new tensions in this country.

All this might have been just Khrushchev's reminder to the East not to suppose he was getting soft because he made a few agreements.

But it could be his way of giving Americans a foretaste of worse in store.

U.S. to Cut Planes in Britain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will cut its B47 jet bomber force in England by 19 planes and turn over two British bases to the Royal Air Force by next July 1, the Defense Department announced today.

At the same time, the Pentagon said, a squadron of 22 KB50 tanker airplanes for air refueling will be returned to the United States. The statement said "these are no longer required for U.S. air operations from Europe."

The Pentagon said the action is "a part of the gradual change in the composition of the U.S. strategic force structure, as operational Polaris and land-based missiles increase rapidly in numbers."

Transition Could Bring Instability

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

Associated Press Staff Writer

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The passing of the Diem government in South Viet Nam has created a power vacuum that could lead to more instability and upheaval.

The transition from family dictatorship to military junta has been immediate, smooth and relatively bloodless. Army units were back fighting the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas within hours after the Saigon government was overturned. Civil administration has been almost undisturbed; with few exceptions, the same faces were in the same government offices Monday morning.

The big change is that the nation is now ruled by a committee instead of a family.

But there is no guarantee this committee will work harmoniously. And in the absence of an established political leader in the group, some observers feel the generals may eventually fall to wrangling.

Despite the naming of civilians to a provisional government, the generals will continue to hold the real power for a long time, according to present indications.

One general on the junta said Wednesday he thought it might be 6 to 12 months before a civilian government with full power could be elected.

This leaves a lot of time for political juggling or even a counter-coup.

The provisional government is not made up of strong political personalities. Nguyen Ngoc Tho, the premier, has been a career bureaucrat since 1930. Although he was President Ngo Dinh Diem's vice president, he never has exercised any real authority.

All national policies for the time being will be made by the military revolutionary committee of generals headed by Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Minh, 47, while highly respected, is difficult to identify as a national leader. In his own words he is "a soldier, not a politician."

The junta unquestionably will fight hard to crush the Communist guerrillas they have been fighting the past four years. And the generals will continue to be good friends of the United States.

But their problems are massive. They still must face huge deficit spending and a precarious economy, even with massive U.S. aid.

The Viet Cong has by no means tossed in the towel.

The junta will have to do some unpopular things, the sting of which will be noticeable after the honeymoon of freedom from the Ngo family is over.

"Someone must take a strong hand here before long, because the Vietnamese are basically like the French — each citizen is a political party unto himself," a longtime Saigon resident said.

Plans Physical Fitness Program

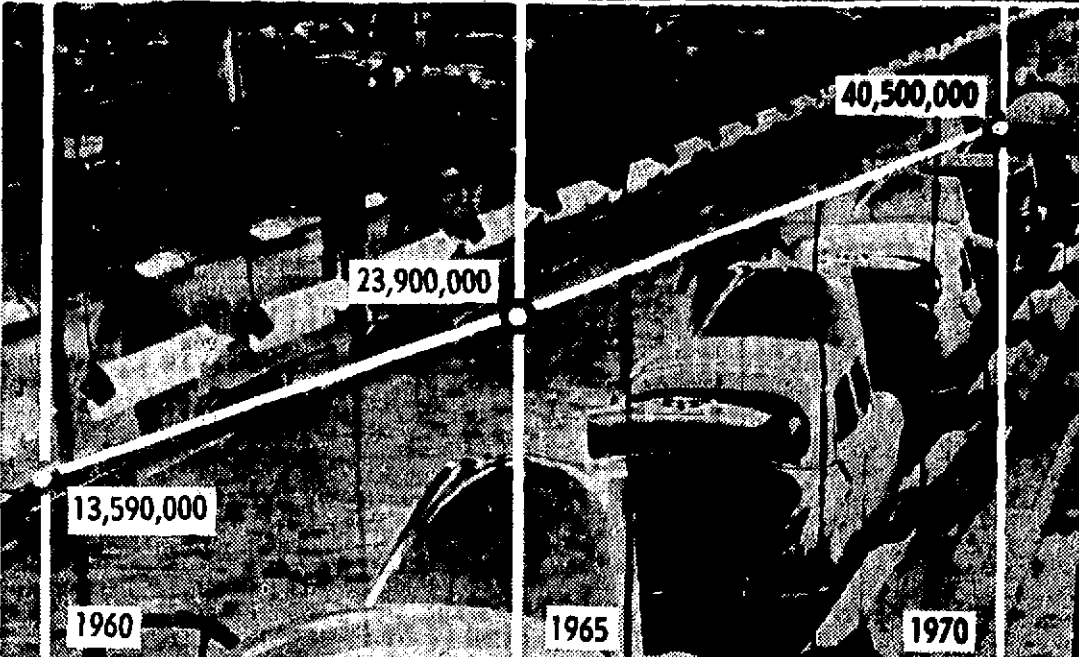

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas will participate in the pilot programs for the President's Council on Youth Fitness, a council member said Thursday. Si McNeely of Washington, the council member, told the Arkansas Education Association at its convention in Little Rock that Arkansas would be among five states in the program, which is an extension of the physical fitness programs in schools.

The school programs will be strengthened by applying four recommendations of the council, McNeely said.

The recommendations include (1) health appraisals by medical examination so children with health problems will get proper attention, (2) determine the physically under developed through tests of physical ability, (3) give 15 minutes of vigorous exercise for each child every day, and (4) provide tests to measure progress and achievement in physical fitness.

AUTOMOBILES AND THE COMMON MARKET

Belgium-Luxembourg	810,000	1,350,000	2,300,000
France	5,545,000	9,150,000	13,900,000
West Germany	4,700,000	8,200,000	13,800,000
Italy	1,995,000	4,300,000	8,900,000
Netherlands	540,000	900,000	1,600,000

EUROPE ON WHEELS—The European Common Market—Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Germany, Italy and the Netherlands—today produces about one-third of all the motor vehicles in the world. (The United States makes about 50 per cent.) The market is also the world's top exporter of vehicles. As Newschart above shows, ownership of cars by the 200-odd million citizens of the six nations is expected to climb from 13.5 million in 1960 to 40.5 million in 1970. Europe still has a long way to go, however. U.S. motor vehicle registrations today total around 70 million. In 1960, ratio of cars to population in Europe was still only equivalent to the U.S. position in 1920.

ONCE UPON A WALL—Under the watchful eye of a uniformed guard, a soldier of the Communist East German People's Army installs new barbed wire on the wall dividing the city of Berlin. The shirtless soldier was part of a crew reinforcing a section of the hated wall. In the background is another barrier of wood slats which is apparently intended to block the view into East Berlin.

READER'S CORNER

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: May I come in and say a word to the L. G. Phillips of El Dorado, Ark. who criticized you for your fair and just stand on strip-teasers?

He seems to know plenty about strippers from the way he described a stripper taking off her clothes, piece by piece, and doing the bumps and grind. But there's still a lot he doesn't know about these hard-working girls.

At the age of 64 I went to Chicago and my niece's husband asked if I had ever been to a strip-tease show. I said no, nor did I intend to go. Well, I wound up at one. I do not believe in the show but I give the girls due justice. To them "stripping" is an art. None ever stripped entirely.

No, Arkansas Phillips, I've been in your town and have seen women on your main street with less on than the girls wore in that strip-tease show.

God made strip-teasers same as he made you and me. Are you so right with Him and so Christian that you can't see each year bringing a change of times? I believe in the Ten Commandments and I go to church but also believe in live and let live, and do not believe in narrow-mindedness or in playing God. Adam and Eve were naked and so what? — Mrs. Ross Dean, Denton, Kan. P.S.: I think you're great, Helen. Keep on fighting for fair play!

Dear Helen: Often, through mistaken duty or pity, one can precipitate a real tragedy. I say this thinking of the wife who recently wrote you about taking her husband back after his release from a mental institution.

He had filed suit for divorce before his breakdown. This alone is proof that he no longer cares for her. Legally, he cannot claim wifely assistance nor is it her responsibility under the circumstances to provide for him.

For her own protection she should get a lawyer before involving herself in a situation which might not only be intolerable but expose her to bodily harm. I speak from experience when I say that her husband's mental instability can return at any time, endangering her life and that of her daughter. She should be practical in dealing with a hospital case of this kind for the husband's release does not mean that he is cured—his affliction is merely arrested. A second relapse could cause an inexcusable crime for which, according to the law, he would be held blameless. —One Who Knows

Youth Killed in Blast at Fouke

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Jackie Leon Hensley, 11, of Fouke, was killed Thursday and a companion miraculously escaped injury when a 500-barrel oil tank on which they were playing exploded.

J. C. Moore Jr., 14, of Genoa, apparently was blown clear of the tank.

Moore said the youths were playing on the tank, lifted its lid to see how much oil was in it, then began beating the top of the tank with their fists.

"Then I saw fire coming out of the top of the tank and nothing else," Moore said. "The next thing I knew, I was running to the house for help."

He ran about four blocks to the nearest house to seek aid.

The tank was in an oil field in the Holy Springs community, 15 miles southeast of Texarkana. Oil burned for several hours aft-

Attack on Holy Office by German

By EUGENE LEVIN

Associated Press Staff Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A German cardinal's attack on the Holy Office, the Vatican's administrative guardian of doctrine, today sparked the liveliest debate so far in the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne, a leading progressive, said Holy Office procedures are often unfair and unjust. He said—according to council press spokesmen—that Holy Office methods "are badly in need of updating."

There was a burst of applause in the council hall in St. Peter's Basilica, although council rules forbid it.

Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, Italian-born secretary of the Holy Office, speaking later in the session, put aside a prepared address and told the council fathers:

"I must protest most vigorously the condemnation we have just heard."

Cardinal Ottaviani, a central figure among conservative prelates, reminded the assembly that the Pope himself is always the prefect of the Holy Office.

Press office spokesmen paraphrased Cardinal Ottaviani as saying that attacks on the Holy Office stemmed from "lack of knowledge or worse."

The Congregation of the Holy Office is the oldest and most powerful of the 12 administrative congregations in the Vatican Curia. It was formed in 1542 to combat heresy and grew out of the inquisition. It is both an administrative body and a tribunal.

The debate on the Holy Office came as the council continued discussion on relations between bishops and the curia, the central administration assisting the Pope.

Council press spokesmen gave this account: Cardinal Frings said: "It is not fair for the Holy Office to accuse, judge and condemn any individual without his having a chance to defend himself at a hearing."

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

By Adeline McElfresh

(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. © 1960 Adeline McElfresh)

THE STORY: Ann has been asked in an emergency to treat a 12-year-old girl who has an eye injury.

XII

Mrs. Conover was cleansing the tear-stained young face when Ann entered the emergency room. "Karen Fisher, Dr. Kenyon." The nurse's tone was as casual as if the little girl were not oozing blood from that horrible gash slanting toward the inner canthus. "Dr. Kenyon is from New York, Karen."

"I want D-Dr. McDougal." She was trying hard not to cry again, but another second—Ann gave her hand an encouraging squeeze. "Dr. McDougal is busy honey. He asked me to come down. We'll fix that up real quick, Karen."

"Will it leave a scar?" "Maybe a tiny one, at first," Ann answered her truthfully.

She was being helped into rubber gloves by another nurse who had come from somewhere when a slender dark-eyed woman wearing a crimson corduroy raincoat came in as if she owned the emergency room.

"I'm Helen Leddie, Doctor," she identified herself. "Please do everything possible. It was my car that hit her."

Ann could have shaken her. The child was upset enough without that "please do everything possible." Ann summoned a lightness that in this moment she was far from feeling. "Goodness, it isn't as bad as all that. If you'll wait outside, Miss Leddie," as she crossed to her patient, "Ready, Karen?"

Her uninjured eye closed too, the girl nodded.

"Good. Mrs. Conover is going to give you a whiff of anesthetic—don't be frightened—" She sensed rather than saw Helen Leddie leave the emergency room, and in another minute Karen Fisher was breathing deeply and evenly, with each breath slipping deeper and deeper into anesthesia. Gently Ann lifted the sterile gauze with which Mrs. Conover had covered the injury when she'd finished cleansing the area around it. The wound looked worse than it was, fortunately. Although the eyelid was all but slit through, by some miracle it had not been pierced and there was no resultant puncture of the eyeball.

The scar would be a time going away, though, Ann thought. Karen was going to have to watch it gradually pale from livid to white and with maddening slowness retreat to a hairline until, one day, it would not be there at all.

Ann prayed that it would be that way. It should be, she thought. She was using a suture that was hairline fine. The stitches were close together, and there shouldn't be any slippage.

She had been back upstairs and lying down for an hour, and still was feeling as if a hot poker were imbedded in her femoral shaft like that intramedullary nail Dr. Lyle had wanted to insert, when Helen Leddie came.

"Dr. Kenyon—" Ann opened her eyes, knew that surprise showed for half an instant in them.

"May I sit down?" Helen Leddie asked.

"Please do."

"You were angry with me, down there, weren't you?" Miss Leddie asked as she sat on the ladder—back chair. A cool smile touched her mouth. "I'm sorry if it upset the girl."

Ann said levelly, "It might have, you know."

Dark eyes probed Ann's. "Peter tells me you are a good surgeon, Dr. Kenyon. Dr. Gregory Scottin at your Rocky Head General Hospital told me a few minutes ago that you are a fine one." The faint smile again. "That surprises you, doesn't it? But, you see, I want you on the staff at Leddie Memorial, Dr. Kenyon."

"Wow!" Dave Clyde ejaculated, but softly, so that his astonishment would not carry beyond their table in the small crowded hospital coffee shop. "Wait till Doc Lyle hears that!"

"I told her I'd think about it," said Ann.

With a gesture of greeting for someone who had just come in he said, "Give us a break, Ann. We need you."

They did need her at Leddie Memorial, and not only because Peter McDougal and Dave Clyde were stretching themselves too thin, as Dr. Mabis had done for years. Dave Clyde would be first after Pete to carrying on this (Holy Office) work, there must be an updating more in keeping with the mentality of today."

The German cardinal also said he felt the number of bishops in the curia should be reduced and that many curia tasks could be done by laymen.

Educated to Become Unemployed

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — "They educated us to be unemployed," a young South Korean said with a mirthless laugh.

Young men seem restless in this tense little republic of 27 million which lived through a bloody war against communism and remains alert to the possibility of another one.

Their complaints underscore dangers in South Korea's present economic condition. An inflationary spiral is a clear threat to political stability.

Jobs are hard to come by. On big newspaper advertising for a few apprentice newsmen, received applications from 400 college graduates. A similar story comes from corporations and banks.

Well-educated young men are forced to take jobs far beneath their abilities, or even to remain jobless.

All this leads to feelings of frustration among a highly important element of the population. Students who study abroad notably in the United States, remain away from home rather than return to a country in which they have no place to go.

Students in the universities, colleges and secondary schools are organized, but governments have attempted to control them. Under the iron-handed rule of Syngman Rhee—brought down by students in 1960—one organization called the Students' Defense Corps. This broke up after the 1960 revolt. With the short-lived freely elected government of Premier John M. Chang, various smaller groups organized, some with leftist sounding slogans, some with nonleftist outlook.

After the present military junta took over in a coup in May 1961, independent organizations were forbidden again. Students are watching to see what happens after the government turns civilian Dec. 17, with the inauguration of Gen. Chung Hee Park as president.

No Trouble as Convoy Crosses

BERLIN (AP)—A small U.S. military convoy crossed the autobahn from West Germany to Berlin today without incident as the Western Allies opened a new test of Soviet intentions on the superhighway.

A French military convoy cleared the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn at the western end of the autobahn to begin the 110-mile journey across Communist East Germany to Berlin. A British Germany to Berlin.

The U.S. convoy consisted of only six vehicles and eight men.

The French convoy had 10 vehicles and 47 men. It took an hour to clear the Marienborn checkpoint, about twice the normal time. There was no explanation of the delay, but a French spokesman said soldiers in the convoy did not dismount and were not asked to.

A Soviet demand that 44 men in a U.S. convoy dismount and be counted touched off a serious crisis Monday. The convoy finally was allowed to proceed to Berlin on Wednesday.

Premier Khrushchev has warned there will be more such holdups on the autobahn unless the Western convoys conform to what he calls normal Soviet checking procedure.

Rocket Pioneers Plan Meeting

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — More than 100 pioneers of rocketry and missiles get together today for a two-day meeting of the Fort Bliss Oldtimers.

admit that: that they needed her kind of surgical skill and training. But Ann Kenyon anywhere but Rocky Head General where her talented hands and her knowledge were backed up by top surgical nurses and assisting surgeon... where at least a dozen other surgeons possessed equal or greater skill?

New Athletic District in 2 Divisions

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Athletic Association adopted Thursday a comprehensive plan for redistricting the state's high schools for athletic competition, effective next July 1.

District alignments in Class AA were not changed and the Class AAA Big Ten Conference remains a statewide district.

The adopted plan creates for the first time a classification system based on county boundaries. Thus, a school changing classifications will know to which district it belongs.

Under the existing plan, which was established 18 years ago, the school would have to petition a district, usually a nearby one, which it wanted to join.

The plan the AAA adopted Thursday was designed to equalize, as far as possible, the number of teams in each district. Some districts have been overloaded, and others have had too few teams for a district championship race.

The association also amended its by-laws to require a school to move up in classification whenever its enrollment exceeds by 10 per cent the maximum enrollment for its present classification.

A school may now elect not to move up if it gets permission of other schools in its district.

Under the 10 per cent rule, Bentonville, Siloam Springs, Huntsville and Mountain Home would be advanced to District IAA, Arkadelphia to 4AA and Batesville to 2AA.

Class B teams will be divided into the traditional eight districts for football, but will be divided into 16 "areas" for purposes of qualifying teams to state basketball tournaments. Each area will qualify one team.

In other action Thursday the AAA:

Adopted a proposal to list track records set in the Meet of Champions along with records set in state meets.

Rejected a proposal which would have made an athlete eligible for junior high athletics if he did not reach the age of 16 on or before Sept. 1 of the school year in which he will compete.

An athlete now becomes ineligible on his 16th birthday.

Adopted a proposal to add the 880-yard run to junior high track meets.

Rejected a proposal to let each Class AA district qualify three, instead of two, junior high teams to the state tournament.

Tabled a proposal to permit junior varsity teams to participate in invitational basketball tournaments.

The redistricting plan adopted by the AAA was approved with only a few negative votes and with almost no debate. The redistricting does not affect athletics in the current school year.

Here are the new Class A districts:

District 1: Green Forest, Berryville, Eureka Springs, Flippin, St. Joe, Marshall, Leslie, Clinton, Lamar, Clarksville, Ozark, Alma and Mulberry.

District 2: Corning, Piggott, Rector, Pocahontas, Sloan-Hendrix, Walnut Ridge, Black Rock, Hoxie, Lynn, Gosnell, Manila and Osceola.

District 3: Nettleton, Monticello, Ray, Trumann, Harrisburg, Marked Tree, Tuckerman, McCrory, Bald Knob, Judsonia and Beebe.

District 4: St. Anne, Charleston, Greenwood, Mansfield, Lavaca, Waldron, Booneville, Paris, Dardanelle, Ola and Mount Ida.

District 5: Perryville, St. Joseph, Joe T. Robinson, Fuller, Lake Hamilton, Lakeside, Bryant, Bauxite, Sheridan and Ouachita.

District 6: Cabot, Lonoke, England, Des Arc, Brinkley, Marianna and De Witt.

District 7: Mena, De Queen, Nashville, Ashdown, Gurdon, Stephens, McNeill, Waldo, Village, Emerson and Rison.

District 8: Fordyce, Rison, Star City, Dumas, Warren.

Cuban Recruits Reported Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HAVANA (AP)—Two Cubans recruited by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for a mission of espionage, sabotage and subversion have been killed, the government-controlled Cuban press reported Tuesday.

Juan Armestoy Rodriguez, one of the alleged agents, was killed by police several days ago, the announcement said. Duenas Landin was executed by a firing squad Monday, the report said.

Officials said Armestoy was sent on at least four missions to Cuba by the CIA.

The Castro regime has stepped up its denunciations of the CIA recently, charging it with a direct campaign of sabotage.

On the ensuing kick, someone went clear through the poor chap who thought he wanted the ball, but he quickly changed his mind, and Bobby Samuels fell on the loose piskin at the 29.

The next Cat TD came early in the second period, on a drive that only lasted four plays, but covered 71 yards. Mac McLarty completed the work with a 33-yard romp to paydirt. Jordan's able to again proved its worth by kicking the PAT, to put the Cats in front to the tune of 20-0.

Gurdon got the ball on the kick, but couldn't figure out exactly what to do with it, so they punted it back to Hope. The Bobcat under it obviously didn't quite know what to do with it either, so he gave it back. But then, somebody told the Go-Devs what to do with it, because, with the help of a major penalty, they went the 46 yards to touchdown land. PAT was good and Gurdon had come up to 20-7 at intermission.

Hope came tearing back after the half with another tally. Richard McDowell followed the blocking of Dan Jones around left end for 30 yards and the score. Jordan converted, and Hope led 27-7.

On the last play of the Third Quarter, John Wayne Hughes intercepted a Gurdon pass on the Hope 30. After they had changed directions, the running of McLarty and McDowell took the Cats down the field where McLarty took it over himself. Jordan holed the Cats into a 34-7 lead with the extra point, and there they stayed.

Individual yardage: McDowell 14-157; McLarty, 6-79; Samuels, 3-49; Wassell, 7-21; Burnett, 3-20; Massanelli, 2-9; Moses, 2-8; Waller, 1-4 and Jordan, 1-8.

Cats Breeze Past Gurdon to 34-7 Tune

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope slaughtered Gurdon last night 34-7 in what turned out to be a gross mismatch. The Go-Devs had a lot of spunk, you couldn't help admiring them for that, but they didn't stand a chance.

The closest Gurdon came to beating the Bobcats was at the opening kickoff, when the score was tied 0-0. The Cats were just too much brute force to be even slowed down by Gurdon.

Bobcat Head Coach Ben Burton was quick to give credit to the opposition. He stated, "Gurdon was a real scrappy little team. We really admire their courage. We had some trouble containing their speed in the second half."

Coach Burton also praised Hope's offense. "They looked sharp." He especially noted the running of Richard McDowell and the passing of Buddy Jordan. He singled out Jimmy Johnson and Ricky Butler for their work on defense.

Before the game, the "Bobcats of the future" (grade school and Junior high players) warmed up along with the Cats.

Hope started crossing the goal line early in the game. First, penetration of the end zone came on a 75 yard punt return by Jerry Burnett, but it was called back on a clipping penalty. This didn't daunt the Cats in the least. They came roaring back for more, and in six plays drove 90 yards to let a 24 yard pass from Buddy Jordan to Burnett do for the required final yards Hope led 6-0 after six minutes of play.

On the ensuing kick, someone went clear through the poor chap who thought he wanted the ball, but he quickly changed his mind, and Bobby Samuels fell on the loose piskin at the 29.

The Cats moved in from there, and Massanelli took it in for the tally. Jordan added the point after, and the Cats went into a 13-0 lead.

Home Wins a Seat in Commons

Associated Press Staff Writer

PERTH, Scotland (AP)—British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home won a seat in the House of Commons today by a whopping 9,328-vote margin which he hoped would take some sting out of a bad Conservative party defeat in another special election.

Defeat of the prime minister in the safe Conservative district of Kinross and West Perthshire would have been unprecedented disaster for the Conservatives and would have plunged Britain into a government crisis.

Instead Douglas-Home's big victory was a psychological counter to his party's loss Thursday night, by another big margin, of the Commons seat for the district of Luton.

The Perthshire vote was: Douglas-Home, 14,147; Alastair Duncan Millar, Liberal, 1,819; Andrew Forrester, Laborite, 3,752; Arthur Donaldson, Scottish Nationalist 1,901; Ivan Smith, Independent, 78; William Rushton Independent 45; and Richard Wort, Independent, 23.

In a three-sided race in the 1959 general election, the Conservatives won the same district by a 12,000-vote margin. No one had expected them to come anywhere near that figure this time.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

"LET ME PRAY

in simple words that are full of meaning. Let me say The Lord's Prayer every day with a fearless and grateful heart.

With a sense of Divine concern for daddy, and mummy, and sister, and all our friends — let me ask that thine ear be open and that you will hear me, Father. Thou hast commanded me to come as a little child; to be humble as a little child; to have faith as a little child. Here I am, so please bless me and make me one of thine own. Bless our pastor, and our church and help us to grow in the grace and knowledge of God. With firm faith that sees beyond the failures of men — Father, you have let me pray."
